A FOUNDATION FOR DISCOVERY

Supporting The STREAM Program

Did you know that most kids decide whether they are good at math by age 6? Your contribution to our Golden Bell award-winning STREAM program helps give our teachers the tools they need to inspire our young learners to love math, science, robotics, art and learn how to problem solve with their peers.

Your support helps make weekly STREAM Discovery Lab classes possible with an emphasis on hands-on, inquiry-based learning, including:

- Access to robotics and coding curriculum
- Implementation of the engineering design process to solve real-world problems
- Projects and experiments aligned with Next Generation Science Standards
- Use of technology and media to research and report project findings and results
- Use of technology and media to research and report project findings and results using latest computer science standards.

STREAM DEVELOPS BRAIN FOCUS AND 4CS:

Hands-on, inquiry-based learning develops brain focus and fosters the 4Cs (critical thinking, creativity, communication, and collaboration) while connecting students to complex, real-world problems.
