#Thankful - Solana Beach School District Student Standout @ Skyline Gives Back

Olivia Issac's organizing efforts supplied families with resources before our fall break

Leader & Advocate - Olivia Issac is a magnetic and compassionate sixth grade student at Skyline School. Scholar, activist, and builder of community, Olivia tasked herself with organizing a food drive event at Skyline, benefiting folks through Feeding San Diego. Since a very young age, “Olivia has understood the importance of giving back to the community and helping those in need, volunteering with me since kindergarten,” recounts Carmen Issac, Olivia’s mother, as we loaded boxes of canned, non-perishable goods into her car. Values instilled in Olivia as a child continued to develop through the direction of her family, as well as Solana Beach School District staff and community. Skyline has educational programs for 4th - 6th grade and a K-6 Global Education program, which is the program Olivia is working towards completing. Skyline instructors and staff have witnessed Olivia’s excellence throughout the years, including Mrs. Leidy, her former kindergarten teacher.

Olivia was determined to meet her goal of collecting over 1000 food items for Feeding San Diego, with the help of her peers and educators. This year, Olivia not only met, but surpassed her goal. Regularly communicating with the Skyline student body, providing donation updates, teaching and guiding her peers on the importance of giving back and helping those in need, Olivia facilitated the overall success of this endeavor.
